LOOKING at Language newsletter

the twins issue!

Issue 2, October 2009

LOOKING at Language goes to the country!

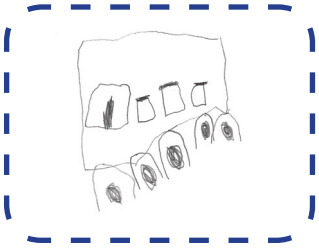
Country families make up a large proportion of our study participants.

Examiners love the wonderful welcome and hospitality they receive from families all over the State - from the north to the coastal south.

We thought you'd like to see some recent drawings from country twins, so enjoy!

This is the bike Maddox played with in the language sample

Will and Archie (right) drew these great pictures during Bradley & Jenn's recent rural trip to Albany



Liam from Albany drew the LOOKING at Language van quiz time!

Use these clues to plot the four country towns the LOOKING at Language vans have been to this year - (answers are on the back)

- You can find a valuable yellow metal here...
- The town is home to Gnomesville...
- The world's largest mammals roam around here...
- The HMAS Sydney was found near here in 2008...

A lovely gift...

Some of our twins have been in the study a LONG time. Bradley recently visited Julian and Coelli who are in our 11-12 year old group and they presented him with this lovely placemat!
